Product Description

Panasonic P8S Electric Tape Feeder

Product highlights:

1. Compatible with the original factory feeder
2. It can be shared with the original factory feeder
3. This product uses brushless motors, while the original factory uses brushed DC motors. Therefore, it has a longer service life in high-load usage scenarios (such as LED advertising screens).
4. Long service life, greatly reducing the frequency of maintenance and servicing, and significantly lowering maintenance labor costs.
5. A fine-tuning key has been added. The suction position can be calibrated on the surface mount machine without the need for a detector
6. The suction position can be adjusted freely to conveniently achieve synchronous suction.
7. The feeding is stable, noise-free and has a low material rejection rate.
